SILVER LINING

We all know the traditional rhyme, telling brides to wear something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue. But traditionally the father-of-the-bride would place a silver sixpence in her left shoe to symbolise him wishing her prosperity, love and happiness in her marriage too. In homage to this, the Royal Mint has a limited number of authentic silver coins available, which were struck between 1920 and 1946. For more information, visit www.royalmint.com

County Wedding Magazines readers have the chance to win a lucky sixpence. To find out more, enter via our website.
